Victory Book Effort Will Close Campaign Need More Good Books

When the Victory Book Campaign was inaugurated to provide good books for the men in the "services" a year or so ago, there was a fine response to the appeal in Northfield, and a local committee was named consisting of Mrs. Marjory Norton, then librarian of Dickinson Memorial library, Samuel E. Walker and William F. Hoehn. Much publicity followed and the people of this community contributed some most excellent reading. Hundreds of books were shipped to the district headquarters and through the kindness of Mrs. Ross Spencer more recently many books were taken to the Greenfield library for boxing and shipping. Since Mrs. Norton has left town, her place on the committee has been filled by the naming of Miss Jean Giebel, the present librarian. The campaign for books will be ended about November first, and now through October another earnest effort will be made. If any of our citizens have any books they can spare and will contribute, they may be left at the library, or sent to the homes of any member of the committee. The National Victory Book Campaign committee announce that about 2,000,000 books will be needed in the final effort and organizations as well as individuals are urged to help out. The many camps of service men, the hospitals, the U. S. O., the Salvation Army and similar organizations providing libraries and reading rooms need more and more books. The local committee will feel grateful for the full co-operation of our people. Make a mental record of the appeal and send in your surplus books.

Gov. Saltonstall On Third War Loan

"Massachusetts boys are in our armed forces all over the world, and are doing their part to win victories for us. They expect us who are on the home front to 'BACK THE ATTACK' with every last effort that we have, and that means our money as well as our hands. Send your savings to war now, to give our boys better and more equipment. Battles will be won more quickly, with less loss of life if they have the equipment with which to fight. Until the last gun is fired, we must keep up our home front. Tokio and Berlin are not yet conquered. The real fight is yet to come.

"Massachusetts' share of the war loan is $788,000,000. Your government provides a bond to fit your pocketbook. I know that Massachusetts can be counted upon to do its share. It always has!"

With Local Grange Annual Booster Eve

The local Grange are sponsoring a pretentious program for next Tuesday evening, September 28 at eight o'clock at the Grange Hall. It will be the annual "Booster night" and following a program of vocal and instrumental music, a one act play will be given, entitled "United we stand." The guest speaker will be Mrs. Lillian Atkinson, the lecturer of the State Grange, who is expected to bring a message of encouragement. After the program of the evening, refreshments will be served and round and square dancing will ensue. There is no charge for admission and all interested are invited to attend. On Monday evening there will be held a rehearsal of those taking part at eight o'clock. Northfield Grange members are urged to attend the rehearsal.

Diplomatic Official Will Visit Hermon

O. G. March, who devoted 33 years to the U. S. diplomatic service including five years in Japan and Korea on the embassy staff of Joseph C. Grew, is expected here Oct. 13 for a week's visit with his daughter, Mrs. Harlan L. Baxter. He will address Mount Hermon school on his experiences and observations in the Orient. Since his return to this country, March has been instructing army personnel at Michigan Tech in the Japanese language and customs. Much of his previous experience was in Latin American countries.

Trustees of the Belcher Fund of the town of Northfield filed its sixteenth report with the Probate Court last week. This fund was established by Eliza Belcher and Mary Ann Belcher, late of Northfield.

Salvation Army Makes Annual Appeal Here Committee Named

The Salvation Army has begun its annual appeal in this town and already hundreds of letters inviting response has gone out in the mails. A prompt reply will be of considerable assistance in the work in due time. The Army has geared its work to meet the demands of its effort, now decidedly international in character, and following the march of our troops into foreign places has followed them with a loyal and unselfish personal service. Northfield has been given a larger quota than in past years, which is $400, but a survey of the situation makes the officials confident of success.

Ross L. Spencer is the local chairman of the annual maintenance fund and William F. Hoehn is treasurer. Both have served for several years and have given much time and work to the splendid accomplishments of the Salvation Army, not only in the general field of its work, but in this community and vicinity, where distress has been alleviated, comfort given and assistance rendered without the fanfare of publicity. The other members of the local committee, serving as sponsors for the drive include, William A. Barr, Merwin D. Birdsall, Dr. F. Wilton Dean, George W. Carr, Rev. Mary Andrews Conner, Grove W. Deming, H. F. Millard, Samuel E. Walker, Miss Mira B. Wilson and A. Gordon Moody. The Salvation Army is headed by General George L. Carpenter, in its international organization, and he is personally responsible for doing the wonderful job accounted for everywhere. The war has brought a great responsibility to the Salvationists and they are proving equal to the task as testimonies come in from the service men and officers of the various services. The "open door" of the Salvation Army in camps and upon fields is known to all men as the "Red Shield" and they are using the privileges freely. At home the Army has not forgotten the unfortunate, the downcast, the weary, the forlorn and distressed. Its work goes on and the old motto still rings true, that "a man may be down, but he is never out."

Schools Speakers On Sunday Morning

Dr. Mira B. Wilson, principal of Northfield Seminary, will be the Sunday morning speaker in Sage Chapel on the Seminary campus, at 11 a. m., while Dr. J. Glover Johnson, chaplain of Mount Hermon school, will preach at 10:30 in the Mount Hermon Chapel.

Will Give Supper

The Women's Alliance announces a Harvest Supper to be given Thursday, September 30, 6:30 p. m., at the Unitarian church. Mrs. Bertha Leach, chairman, Mrs. J. V. McNeil, Mrs. Carroll Miller, Mrs. Joseph Field, Mrs. Thomas Parker, Mrs. Raymond Sauter and Mrs. George Kidder are the committee.

Henry Lyman Passes

After spending the summer at his home on Maple Street in this town, which he dearly loved, Henry Lyman, in ill health, was returned to his residence in Springfield to be with his daughters. However it was necessary to remove him to a hospital where he underwent a serious operation and although improving, suffered much until his passing on Thursday, September 16. Mr. Lyman was a gentleman of the "old school" and had many friends. He was a native of this town and was born November 6, 1860, the son of Edwin and Rhoda (Bridge) Lyman. He married April 10, 1886, Nellie A. Morrison also of Northfield, who died April 11, 1928. He was a direct descendant of Richard Lyman, who came with his family from England in 1631 on the good ship "Lion." On his mother's side, he was in descent of John Bridge, the Puritan, who came from England in the same year. Mr. Lyman after his marriage had made his home in Keene, N. H., for twenty-five years and in 1919 removed to Springfield. For many years he had spent his summers here. Surviving are two daughters, Miss Florence B. Lyman and Mrs. Rhoda L. Kempkes, both of Springfield, also two nephews and several cousins. Funeral services were held last Sunday at noon at Byrns Funeral Home in Springfield and in the afternoon at Kidders Funeral Home in Northfield. Burial was in the family plot in the Center cemetery.

Unitarian Women In Church Alliance Plan Seasons Program

The Womens' Alliance of the Unitarian church through an efficient program committee have announced a series of most interesting meetings and the list is published in a neat brochure for every members convenience. The program committee consisted of Mrs. Charles E. Leach, Mrs. Joseph Morgan, Mrs. John V. McNeil and Mrs. Carroll H. Miller. The first meeting of the season was held at the home of Mrs. George N. Kidder and the speaker was Miss Carolyn Wright of Greenfield, on Thursday, September 10. The next meeting will be on Thursday, October 14, with a program of music, in charge of Mrs. Robert Taylor. The hostesses will be Mrs. Robert McCalline and Mrs. Charles H. Webster. Other meetings are as follows:

Nov. 11, "Why Thanks," Mrs. Oler D. Doolittle, hostesses, Mrs. William A. Barr and Mrs. Mary Bardwell; Dec. 9, current events, Mrs. Edward M. Morgan, hostesses, Mrs. Harold Bigelow and Mrs. Fortier; Jan. 13, speaker, Rev. Arthur Heeb, hostesses, Mrs. Carroll Miller and Mrs. Raymond Sauter; Feb. 10, speaker, Robert N. Taylor, hostesses, Mrs. Joseph Morgan and Mrs. John V. McNeil; March 9, Youth, Mrs. Carroll Miller, hostesses, Mrs. Charles Streeter and Mrs. S. F. Harriman; April 13, luncheon, Mrs. Bertha Leach, chairman; May 10, The Negro, Mrs. J. V. McNeil, hostesses, Mrs. Frank Williams and Mrs. Edward Morgan; June 8, speaker, Mrs. John Lee, district director of Greenfield, hostesses, Mrs. Thomas Parker and Mrs. Mary Holton. Special plans will be made for the July and August meetings.

The program meetings of the organization are held at the church on the second Thursday of the month at 2:30 unless special invitations are received to meet at the homes of members.

Sewing meetings will be held the fourth Thursday of each month from 2 to 4:30 with Mrs. Frank Williams unless otherwise announced.

The officers are: Mrs. J. V. McNeil, president; Mrs. O. D. Doolittle, vice-president; Mrs. H. C. Houston, recording secretary; Mrs. C. H. Webster, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Frank Williams, treasurer.

Local Well Known Man Dies While On Visit

Arthur Champegnny, well known local tailor and cleaner, whose place of business was on Main street, died suddenly, after suffering a double shock and heart attack, while visiting at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Adela Champegnny in New Bedford on Wednesday, September 15th. He had closed his shop for a week's vacation with relatives. The funeral services were in New Bedford at St. Ann's church and burial was in the Sacred Heart cemetery. Mr. Champegnny was born in New Bedford December 14, 1888. He was a World War veteran, having served with the Yankee Division overseas, and was a member of the American Legion. Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Eva Beauregard and Mrs. Meline Cloutier of Actonville, Canada, and Mrs. Aglae Lemay of Windsor Mills, Canada. On Tuesday Zephyr D. Paquin, as attorney for the estate from New Bedford, was in town and many persons were privileged to secure their clothing left at the shop. He was accompanied by members of the family. He will return to Northfield on Wednesday, October 6 in the morning to close the business affairs and persons having property, should call at that time for it.

Civil Service Jobs Of All Kinds Open

The Press is in receipt of announcements that open competitive examinations will soon be held for many kinds of positions to be filled in the government service. These bulletins are displayed at the East Northfield Postoffice and detailed information may be had there by all interested, since this office officially represents the commission. Both men and women are wanted for jobs and positions paying good wages, provided they have the ability and education, and can qualify. It might be advantageous to consult these bulletins.

Dickinson Memorial Library is making a special showing of the books of the Northfield Garden Club on a table in the hall. They have attracted much attention.

Scholarship Honors On Seating Day At The Seminary

The Scholarship Honor List for last semester at Northfield Seminary for girls was read in Chapel Wednesday morning on the occasion of Seating Day, when 152 Seniors and 94 Juniors took their places in their respective classes. The list is usually comprised of the 20 highest ranking students in the school. Last year, however, 23 girls qualified for a place on the list. Two of these students graduated in June and are now in college. They are Elizabeth Drake at Smith college and Josephine Huse, also at Smith. Also included on the list were Gabriele Abraham of Crestwood, N. Y.; Nancy Bartram of Nitro, W. Va.; Elisabeth Caswell of Worcester; Lois Eberhardt of Bloomsbury, Pa.; Frances Farnsworth of Hartford, Conn.; Alice Fletcher of White Plains, N. Y.; Jean Harris of Lawrenceville, N. J.; Janet Hubbard of Rochester, Vt.; Elizabeth Hudson of Syracuse, N. Y.; Eleanor Lacy of New York City; Elizabeth Leslie of Clinton, Conn.; Joan Litchard of Lincoln; Betsey Martin of Worcester; Ann Miller of Larchmont, N. Y.; Jane Parker of Hanover, Ind.; Molly Payne of Alburg, Vt.; Virginia Rusterholtz of Syracuse, N. Y.; Dorothy Sisson of Worcester; Joan Springer of Utica, N. Y., and Alice Warner of Fitchburg.

Yuletide Mailing To Men In Service

We are reminded by the Postmasters of Northfield and by our good friend and rural carrier, Henry Johnson that boxes and other packages, intended to reach the men in the service for the Christmas season must be mailed from September 13 to October 15 and must be marked "Christmas parcel." This will insure prompt forwarding.

The parcel must not exceed five pounds or be more than 15 inches long. Packages should be packed in strong containers of metal, wood or fibre board, then wrapped in strong paper and tied with twine—with one end easily opened for censorship.

Perishable goods will not be accepted, nor will liquids, poisons nor matches. Food and clothing are supplied the men. Men in the service do not need to ask their C. O. for articles to be sent as gifts.

If your gift is money, the Post-office urges that money orders be sent instead of cash.

Parcels addressed to Army personnel should show the name and address of the sender, the name, rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, A. P. O. number of the addressee, and the postoffice through which the parcels are to be routed.

Parcels for Naval personnel should give name and address of sender, the name, rank or rating of the addressee and the naval unit to which he is assigned with the Navy number of the unit, or the name of the ship.

Important Items

Basic "A" Renewals
The local rationing board will soon start mailing out renewal blanks to all holders of basic "A" gasoline ration. All passenger car owners are requested to fill these out and mail them back to the board as soon as possible, so that the clerks may complete the work of making out the books. These will be issued and mailed upon instructions from OPA headquarters.

Any car owner not receiving a renewal blank by October 15 should request one from the local board.

"T" Book Renewals
All truck owners will receive their 4th quarter allowance of gas, as specified by the Office of Defense Transportation by mail on or before October 1st. It will not be necessary to go to the board for these ration in most cases.

Sale of Used Trucks
After September 15, 1943, both buyers and sellers of used trucks must sign a certificate of transfer, required by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 341. These certificates are to be filled out by the seller for each sale, except a sale to a dealer, signed by the purchaser and seller when the sale is completed and presented by the purchaser to the local War Price and Rationing Board when he applies for gasoline rationing coupons for the purchased vehicle.

Mrs. Taber Polhemus and young daughter were recent visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Miller.

Civilian Defense Remains Must Be Effective For The Duration

Despite rumors to the contrary, the Office of Civilian Defense will continue to function as such for the duration of the war, said Regional Director Joseph M. Loughlin, First Civilian Defense Region, in a special message to state and local defense councils including the Northfield Defense Council and its Chairman George McEwan.

The resignation of National Director James M. Landis to accept a post in the Middle East, along with rumors that functions of OCD were to be shifted to other government agencies has made it necessary to clarify the situation.

"Doubtless uncertainty has been caused in the minds of some of those who have so loyally given of their time and effort that the Civilian Defense program be successful."

"I wish to assure these persons that the Office of Civilian Defense will continue as a war agency for the duration and that their services are absolutely essential to us in carrying out the job here at home."

"Civilian Defense has become a vital factor not only in the life of New England, but in the life of the entire nation."

"We are not deluding ourselves into believing that as changes occur in battlefield situations that they have no effect upon the danger at home. Those changes, however, do not mean that the protective forces can be disbanded or that their activity can be relaxed. There can be no doubt the enemy still possesses the means with which to perpetrate air attacks. "We must remain able to meet the enemy at any time, at any place, and with any weapon. President Roosevelt has said 'we must not lower our guard for one single instant.'"

Appointed Town Nurse By Local Selectmen Begins Work October

Mrs. Dean Williams of Warwick avenue has been named as town nurse to fill the vacancy, caused by the resignation of Miss Euphrasia Purinton, who leaves soon to begin her work at the city hospital in Binghamton, N. Y. The school committee has also named Mrs. Williams as the school nurse. The appointment is made annually by the two departments of town affairs, subject to action taken and appropriation made by the annual town meeting. Mrs. Williams appointment meets with general approval and she was a former occupant of the office, when as Miss Catherine Herron of Leyden she was named several years ago. She resigned after her marriage and resides with her husband and children in a comfortable home on Warwick avenue. Her return to the duties and responsibilities of the work of a nurse will be no innovation, and she will endeavor to render a satisfactory service. Her office will be at the Town Hall and at Center school and the hours will shortly be announced, together with her telephone number.

Picture Of Dogs

The magazine section cover page of the Sunday Boston Herald printed a colored picture of two Irish terriers so like Mr. Heeb's dogs, familiar on the streets of Northfield, that he has been asked if it was their photograph. Friends have presented him with a number of copies of the picture. No, he says they are not his dogs, they may be cousins. He is often asked: "Are they twins?" No, so far as dog breeders know, there are no twins in canine families—only litter sisters and brothers. In one sense all dogs born at the same time are twins, but they are often very unlike in appearance and disposition.

Barrel Is Missing

The red, white and blue painted barrel that has stood for over a year on the porch at the I. G. A. store has disappeared. It was used as a receptacle for contributions of clothing, etc., for British and Russian War Relief. It is wanted again for use and anyone who knows of its whereabouts should communicate with Mrs. E. M. Powell.

Those who have closed their homes for the season in Mountain Park and the Highlands and returned home are Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Moore, Rev. and Mrs. W. R. McDermott, Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. Watson, Miss Daisy B. Treen, Mrs. Charles Wright, Miss Sarah Ayer, Miss Florence Layton, Mrs. Robert Dunbar.

TOWN TOPICS

Mrs. William Marshall of Highland avenue has returned to her home after spending the summer with her husband, Major Marshall at Niantic, Conn.

In Probate Court recently Mrs. Stella Z. Gibbs was given a divorce from her husband Frank Gibbs of Northfield. Alimony was granted and the charge was cruel and abusive treatment.

Bernhard Dirks, well known architect with an office in Greenfield, has just returned from several months war work in California and is now in the engineering department of the Rodney Hunt Company in Orange. After the war he will return to private practice. He has done much work in this town.

Mrs. Allen H. Wright leaves this week-end to visit her sister in Syracuse, N. Y. She expects to be away for several weeks.

It is announced that there will be another registration for War Ration book No. 4, during the last part of October and the work will be undertaken by the teachers and held at Center school.

George Leonard, principal of the Center school, who recently went to the hospital for an operation is reported as gradually improving.

Rumor has it that there may be an air-raid test early on the evening of Thursday, September 30. The local Fish and Game club held a most successful clam-bake at the Jewett farm last Sunday with a good attendance.

Miss Janet Kehl left on Sunday for Amherst to enter Massachusetts State College. She will live in the freshman dormitory, Butterfield House.

The Brotherhood supper and meeting at the Congregational church on Tuesday was well attended. The speaker was Christian Mackaner who attended the United Nations Food conference at Hot Springs, who gave a most interesting talk. The supper was served by the men, who put on a feed as only men could do it.

CARD OF THANKS

They're telling in Germany, in whispers, of a new method of carrying out the death sentence. They blindfold the condemned man,

TOWN TOPICS

In Probate Court last week, administration was granted to Anna Baraszcski on the estate of the late Andrew Baraszcski of this town; accounts were allowed on the estate of the late Osro D. Adams of the Farms; and a report of distribution was accepted in the estate of the late George Chapman.

Mrs. Lawrence White and son of Boston have been visiting with her mother, Mrs. Allen H. Wright over last week-end.

A group of summer residents enjoyed a supper and social gathering at the home of Miss Therese Simar on Rustic Ridge, Thursday afternoon of last week. This was probably the last get-together meeting and was a delightful event.

Miss Fanny C. Hatch, who has spent the summer in Canada, has returned to her home in Springfield for a stay before going to Florida for the winter.

It is said that the buffet suppers at the Northfield hotel will be discontinued this fall and winter season and perhaps for the duration owing to food rationing and lack of help. The evening when this supper was served was known as Neighborhood nights when social activities followed the supper.

Sympathy is extended to Miss Evelyn G. Lawley, teacher at our High school, in the loss by death of her mother, Mrs. Sylvia (Stockwell) Lawley, who died at her home in Florence, after a long illness on Saturday, September 18, at the age of 83 years. The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon.

Rev. Dr. Joseph L. Peacock, whose resignation and retirement was announced in last week's Press from the Federated church at Saxtons River, Vt., will make his home at 14 Pearl Street, Glens Falls, N. Y., after October first.

A bulletin from the Naval Training station at Sampson, N. Y., states that Harry James Holloway of this town has been granted a leave after completing his basic training and is now eligible for further assignment where specialized instruction will be given.

In the list of summer residents of Rustic Ridge in last week's paper the name of Mrs. H. W. Doremus of New York city, who occupies Overlook Lodge, R. R. 4, was inadvertently omitted. We are sorry and trust that those who are keeping the list on file for reference will add her name.

Homer Hammondtree, well known to Northfield conference audiences, and his accompanist, are serving in a Philadelphia church with its pastor, Rev. George A. Palmer. They broadcast daily in a "Morning cheer" program over station WIP which will be of interest to many local friends.

Don't fail to see that most interesting movie, "The Little Tough Guy" at the Town Hall this Friday evening.

William Cotter of this town is visiting his niece, Mrs. Harry C. Makos and family at Flushing, N. Y.

Dr. William E. Park was the speaker at Vespers at Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont, on Sunday, September 19, and is preaching at the evening Vesper service at 7:00 September 26 at Connecticut College in New London.

Mrs. James A. Goodwin, the former Shirley Elizabeth Kehl, is now employed at the Roosevelt Hospital in New York City as private duty nurse.

Mrs. Mary Holton will close her home for the winter months and has taken rooms at the Bronson Inn.

Rev. Philip Phelps of this town, who has been ill for some time, is at the Bronson Inn and his sister, Mrs. J. A. Otte is remaining with him.

Miss Beverly Briesmaster and Sgt. Harold Briesmaster are spending a few days at Valley Vista Inn with their parents.

The policeman's son was learning music.

"How many beats to a bar in this piece of music, dad?" he asked his father.

"Fancy asking a policeman a question like that," said the boy's mother. "If you had asked your father how many bars to the beat he'd have been able to tell you!"

Services will be as usual at the Advent Christian church next Sunday.

The small boy was sitting consolately on his front doorstep.

"What makes you so unhappy-looking?" asked a sympathetic neighbor.

"Well," replied the boy, "if I had to do it over again I wouldn't eat up sister's lipstick—even for spite."

Announcer: "And here is the 9 o'clock news at five minutes past 9 for the benefit of those thousands of listeners who usually rush to switch on the news at just about this time."

Neighbor: "Your wife doesn't seem to go out very much."

Brown: "No, I can't induce her to get out of the house."

Neighbor: "Have you ever tried circling a few bargain ads in the paper and then giving her $50."

"How did Junior make out in his latest exams?"

"Oh, he's doing much better. He was almost on the top of the list of those that failed."

Father: "I hope you appreciate young man, that in marrying my daughter you are getting a big-hearted, generous girl."

Suitor: "I do, sir, and I trust she has acquired those fine qualities from her father."

In Russia the Soviets with the help of American Engineers harnessed the waters of the Dnieper River. Hitler's Hunns marched in and the Russians destroyed their greatest work of this generation.

"And aren't you glad now," said the father, "that you prayed for a baby sister?"
"Yes," replied the son, after another glance at the twins. "And aren't you glad that I stopped when I did?"

Customer: "Waiter, I know meat is scarce but don't you think this steak is ridiculously small?"
Waiter: "Yes, but it will take you a good while to get through it."

"Do you think you'd care as much for me if Dad lost his money?"
"Haw he?"
"Why, no!"
"Of course I would, dear."

Dad (icily): "What's this '50' on your report card?"
Willie: "Do you suppose it could be the temperature of the room?"

He: "If I had a million dollars do you know where I'd be?"
She: "I'll say. You'd be on OUR honeymoon."

Officer: "Do you know who I am?"
Recruit: "No, sir."
Officer: "I'm the Colonel of this outfit."
Recruit: "Oh-oh! Are you gonna catch it! The sergeant's been looking for you all day!"

A gentleman traveling in a railway compartment was endeavoring, with earnestness, to impress an argument upon a fellow passenger who appeared rather dull of comprehension. Slightly irritated, he exclaimed in a louder tone: "Why, sir, it's as plain as A B C!"
"That may be," quietly replied the other, "but I am D E F!"

A preacher dialed long distance in order to call a clergyman friend of his in a distant town.

"Do you wish to place a station to station call?" asked the operator.

"No," came the answer, "parson to parson, please."

A DRAFTEE'S FAREWELL

The other day I got a letter, and it had these words to say: "You are ordered by your Draft Board to report without delay, as he's in an awful scrap."

As my "Uncle" says he needs me, I'll be leavin' right away, so am packing up my baggage, to be ready any day; And perchance I do not see you, ere I catch the bus or train, I'll be sayin' good-bye, fellows 'till I get back home again.

But before I get to movin', let me drop a little hint: I'm about to join the buddies that have been already sent; And if YOU will stand behind us—buy War Bonds and Saving Stamps—We will land this Axis trio into alien prison camps.

When we whip that surly German, beat the "Dago" to his knees, Then we'll turn our whole attention to the little Japanese, And the lickin' that we'll give him will be one he won't forget, And he'll never again betray us with a sneak attack id bet.

We will fill a date with Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo, So will make a trip to Berlin, then to Rome and Tokyo. But it's now farewell, good neighbors! as my grip I've got to pack;

So just keep the Home Fires Burnin', for I'll soon be comin' back.

Mr. Heeb's Sermon

In a recent sermon at the Unitarian church on making: "One Hundred Per Cent Investment in Life" Mr. Heeb said: A full investment means seeing life steady and seeing it whole. This is not easy. St. Paul often spoke of the new creation and the new man but Jesus spoke of the whole man. That is why his words are spirit and are life. Today with so much two dimensional living, so much split personality responses and so much seeking after cheap heavens and cheap goals—the easy way—we should beware lest the satan of frustration, overcomes us. The best religion and the best advice we can get is from simple men like Jesus, who, when speaking to his neighbors about the good life heard them say "Is this not the Carpenter's son?" "Is he not one of us?" Yet his authority was grounded in the fact that he preached the whole life. He saw God in every act of life and in every moment. What wonder his neighbors did not understand him! Members of an old religious order greet each other: "Brothers we must die!" On the streets of Northfield, if we understand Jesus we might say: "Brothers we must live!"

To overcome half-living, half-investment in life, frustration and world-weariness we need the whole sense of God in all of life. Emerson is our best modern example of the same idea when he speaks of the Oversoul. He was a plain man with a great religion. He saw life whole. He carried a sense of the All-Prevailing Power at work in all things. Modern experiments in physics verify the fact that if we see it whole, we see God at work. Though Nature reveals the law of seeming chaos, destructive cancer forms in all life, yet there is the truer form of cosmos that forever holds together the universe for an eternal good. Life, for Jesus and Emerson and millions of plain men with insight, is an everlasting principle. We speak of death but we know only of life. But it is whole life we want. Not a two dimension existence. "My

SCORE YOURSELF ON FOOD WASTE

By EDWINA NOLAN
General Electric Consumers Institute

You are the Captain of your kitchen. You have marshalled your forces to meet the emergencies of the times. You have done and are doing a fine job. The Captains of the American kitchens are winning their battles—battles against food shortages; the battle for better health; battles against time; battle against waste, both of energy and of food.

These battles are seemingly endless. Even the day of Victory will not see the end of many of them. For the battle for better health is continuous—the battle against food waste is never-ending.

Just how good are you in guarding against the waste of food in your kitchen? The Department of Agriculture Bureau of Human Nutrition has devised a test which is pointed below. You can score yourself on this all-important subject. Every "Yes" scores 5 points. One hundred percent means a perfect score. Less than that... we'll you're the Captain of your kitchen.

The Delicate Touch Yes ☐ No ☐

1. Do you peel potatoes and apples? ☐
2. Do you handle fruits gently so as not to bruise them? ☐
3. Do you store cooking greens loosely to avoid bruising them? ☐

To Sun Or Not To Sun Yes ☐ No ☐

4. Do you store foods such as onions, potatoes, butter, and flour AWAY FROM THE LIGHT? ☐
5. Do you scald and sun bread and cake containers once a week? ☐

To Wash Or Not To Wash Yes ☐ No ☐

6. Do you defrost your refrigerator once a week and WASH the entire interior, including freezing unit, with warm soda water? ☐
7. Do you WASH and drain salad greens such as lettuce, radishes, and celery before storing in a cold place? ☐
8. Do you WASH poultry thoroughly inside and out and pat dry before storing in a cold place? ☐
9. Do you leave eggs UNWASHED to retain the protective film that keeps out air and odors? ☐
10. Do you store cherries, berries, and grapes UNWASHED in a cold place? ☐

The Watcher and The Schemer Yes ☐ No ☐

11. Do you plan your food purchases carefully in advance of shopping? ☐
12. Have you observed the amounts of food consumed by your family at each meal in order that you may prepare enough but not too much? ☐

Low Hot, Blow Cold Yes ☐ No ☐

13. Do you save vegetable juices for soups, sauces, gravies, cold drinks, or appetizers? ☐
14. Do you keep cooking fats in a clean, covered jar and store in a cool, dark place until used? ☐
15. Do you save bread and cracker crumbs for poultry dressing, meat cake, and scalloped dishes? ☐

Our book "How To Store Perishable Foods" not only helps solve present-day rationing problems because it helps preserve your foods, but it answers your many questions of where to store vast quantities of food now that we make less shopping trips to market and buy in larger quantities. This book is offered free to you. To get "How To Store Perishable Foods" simply send your name and address to General Electric Consumers Institute, Dept. GN, Bridgeport, Conn.

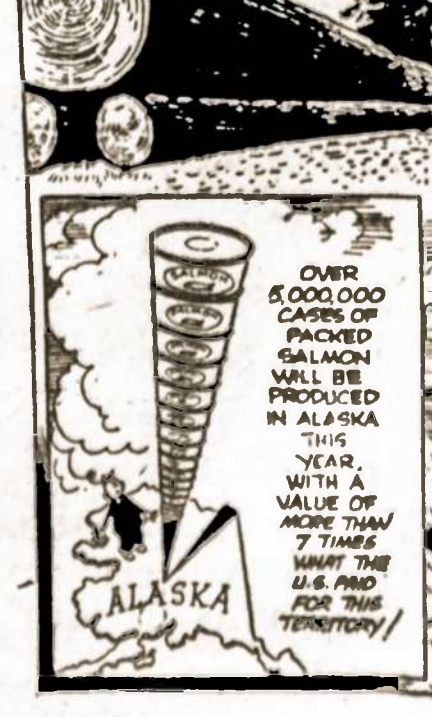

Words are spirit and they are life" said Jesus. Here is the key-note for driving out the half-gods of unbelief and half-living. Let us make a hundred per cent investment in the enterprise, the only enterprise we should be investing in, a whole life, lived with the aim and spirit of Jesus, the Master of Life.

Know Massachusetts
DO YOU KNOW THAT... Following the Armistice in November 1918, total employment in Massachusetts factories declined for only about three months.

Electrician (to helper) — Mrs. Brown wants to know why you didn't fix her doorbell.
Helper—I went over and rang it three times. When she didn't answer I thought no one was home.

HERE'S WHY UNCLE SAM WANTS US TO SAVE ELECTRICITY!

We can make and deliver all the electricity you would like to use... and we would like to have you use it! But extra war demands for power means extra carloads of coal to make power. So we urge you to use electricity only for war production and essential civilian purposes.

TO SAVE COAL it takes coal to make kilowatt hours

TO SAVE MANPOWER it takes men to mine the coal

TO SAVE TRANSPORTATION it takes railroads to haul coal

ELECTRICITY IS THE LIFE-BLOOD OF WAR PRODUCTION — Don't Waste It!

Within five months it turned upward and by the close of 1919 had reached a peak four per cent greater than anytime during the war. The serious post-war drop in industrial employment did not come until nearly the middle of 1920. . . . Although the number of passenger automobile registrations issued in Massachusetts during 1942 declined 21 per cent below 1941, the number of operators' licenses dropped only 7 per cent. . . . Approximately one in every 2.6 per sons in the Commonwealth sixteen years of age or older has an automobile operator's license. . . . The 1940 census count of Massachusetts residents 15 years old and over showed that although there were 127,739 more female residents than males, the number of boys 15 to 19 years old exceeded the number of girls of those ages by 533. . . . Approximately 10,000,000 cubic yards of fill will be required in the expansion now underway at the East Boston Airport. . . . Permits for 130 new single-family dwellings were issued in Springfield during June. Boston had ten new dwellings but there were only seven year-round dwellings and six camps authorized in all the remaining 66 cities and towns regularly tabulated by the Department of Labor and Industries. . . . The Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards will shortly place on sale copies of "The Massachusetts Law of Planning and Zoning" written by Philip Nichols.
